HALLOWEEN HAPPENINGS AT THE HUNTERDON LAND TRUST FARMERS' MARKET

Flemington, NJ — Get an early start to Halloween at the Hunterdon Land Trust Farmers' Market this Sunday from 9 am to 1 pm. Market sponsor Basil Bandwagon Natural Market will be hosting a special Halloween booth. Ralph Celebre, owner, and Peg Fagan, executive chef of the Farm to Market Café at Basil Bandwagon, will be handing out natural and organic candy to trick or treaters, and samples of the café's delicious prepared food. Come and do some taste testing for your upcoming Thanksgiving feast.

Artist Val Sivilli of Civilian will be on hand to help paint truly spooktacular pumpkins, free of charge. Purchase a pumpkin at the Farmers' Market, or bring your own, and Val will help you turn it into the perfect Civilian-style Halloween decoration.

"Halloween will be such fun at the Market" says Catherine Suttle, Market Manager. "I'll be in costume, as will many of the farmers, and thanks to Basil Bandwagon and Civilian we'll have the whole Halloween experience. This is a wonderful time to shop the Farmers' Market as well. There is a reason we associate the fall with a bounty of crops. Right now you can find tomatoes and even corn available, zucchini, flowers, winter squash, pumpkins and other fall vegetables, as well as many of different types of greens. Come stock up and have some Halloween fun this Sunday.”

The Hunterdon Land Trust Farmers' Market is located at 111 Mine Street, Flemington at the Historic Dvoor Farm. The Farmers' Market is open Sundays from 9 am to 1 pm through November 21 and is sponsored by Stem Brothers, Inc., Team Capital Bank, Matt's Red Rooster Grill and Basil Bandwagon.

The Hunterdon Land Trust is Hunterdon County's only countywide nonprofit land trust. Incorporated as a 501 (C) (3) non-profit charitable organization in 1996, the land trust is committed to preserving and protecting the rural landscapes and natural resources of Hunterdon County.
